Children's patterns

These are possibly the most common wallpapers today. Using a fun wallpaper makes for an especially pleasant environment for children's rooms. These can even have educational patterns, with shapes, letters or other objects.

Ornamental patterns

These were the first patterns used for wallpapers and to this day remain pleasing to many. Arabesques (designs formed by geometric patterns) are widely used on surfaces, tapestry and decoration in general, and bring a classy feel to environments.

Geometric patterns

Repetitive and geometric patterns give spaces a sober appearance and can work well for offices, bedrooms and kitchens.
